

Box Model :

1. padding : text to element edge space
(inside element)
2. margin : element edge to element edge space
(outside element)
3. border : decoration on element
4. outline : decoration on top of border
5. width : horizontal area
6. height : vertical area

in html every element is a box which can have some width and height in html elements are arranging with different positions horizonatally or vertically

```
<!DOCTYPE html>
<html>
<head>
  <title>Width-height</title>
  <style type="text/css">
    h1{background-color: blue;
      width: 50%;
      height: auto;
      color: white;
      font-size: 30px;
      font-style: italic;
      text-align: center;}
  </style>
</head>
<body>
<center><h1> HTML Development</h1></center>
</body>
</html>
```

```
<!DOCTYPE html>
<html>
<head>
  <title>Width-height</title>
  <style type="text/css">
    h1{background-color: blue;
      width: 50%;
      height: auto;
      color: white;
      font-size: 30px;
      font-style: italic;
      text-align: center;}
    p{background-color: orange; height: 30px; color: white; font-size: 25px;}
    .first{width: 100%;}
    .second{width: 80%;}
    .third{width: 60%}
  </style>
</head>
<body>
<center><h1> HTML Development</h1></center>
```

```
 HTML : Hyper text markup language
 CSS : Cascading style sheet
 JS : javascript scripting language
</body>
</html>
```